'Scottish Ski Club (SSC) fund raising initiatives offer significant and meaningful aid to young ski racers. The Bursary coupled with an 'open to all' inclusive training programme provides a unique pathway for young racers to progress in sport and in life'. - Olympian and SSC member Sean Langmuir

Applications 2022/23

Following the success of our first year of bursary awards, we are delighted to announce that we are now inviting applications for SSC Bursaries for the 2022/2023 season. Our bursary and race camp programme is run in partnership with Alpine Training Centre SCIO (formerly ATC) which is now a registered Charity, specifically set up to support young ski racers.

This season's Bursaries will focus on providing young ski racers with pre-season training in the Alps and winter training in Scotland.

The following activities will receive SSC Bursary support:

- October Camp / 2-weeks of pre-season glacier training (Full residential). Information on the camp can be found on the ATC website. A limited number of places are also available on this camp for non-supported athletes.
- Scottish Cairngorm Camps at Christmas, February and April (Training only)
- In addition, ATC will provide race support at key Alpine races (Pila, Bormio and Tignes) for SSC Bursary athletes. Note: Training only fees will apply for these camps.

- Bursary camps and activities are coached by the Alpine Training Centre SCIO who operate on a not for profit basis.

To gain the maximum training benefit we strongly recommend attending the October camp for a minimum of two weeks. The bursary will cover course fees on a fully residential basis at a value of £1500 per week, but does not cover equipment and transport / flights,

How to apply

The objectives of the bursary programme and criteria for selection can be found at www.scottishskiclub.org.uk and should be read prior to the submission of any application.
